

The Creation of a Man

What can you build
from sawdust
and skin

when all tools
leave only imprints?

If you shape a man,
what will he make?

Rock, he'd tell you,
has veins

not lines, cracks,
fissures,
gulches.

It lives
because he does,
more thought now
than man.

Not what he touches,
but what touches him
is him.

He's waited all this time
for your hand.
